Bay stopped from joining county wastewater district

By BRENT MACEY

One phrase at the end of one paragraph in a 15-page contract prevented Bay St. Louis from joining the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District Wednesday.

The phrase in question was added in to a district management contract by Bay St. Louis City Council members during a council meeting prior to the district's meeting Wednesday.

Councilmen had hoped that the additional phrase would allow the City of Bay St. Louis to retain ownership of the city's sewerage lagoon if, in 30 years, the Bay's lagoon system was not being used by the district to treat sewage.

Provisions in the contract, without the additional phrase, allow the district to lease the property an additional 30 years for $1 at the end of an initial 30 year lease; regardless of whether the land is being used to treat sewage at that time.

Bay St. Louis City Clerk Eddie Favre told district members Wednesday that a possibility exists that the Bureau of Pollution Control might prohibit a lagoon-type of treatment system in the future.

"We don't want to give up the land (approximately 80 acres) for a $1 if it's not going to be used for treatment," Favre said.

Two members of the district, and the district's attorney, objected to the inclusion of the phrase and agreed to accept Bay St. Louis into the district only if the phrase is deleted.

The council will have to decide whether they want to agree to the district's terms at their next council meeting.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett, Bay St. Louis' representative on the district board, was the only representative who voted in favor of the contract with the phrase included.

The other two representatives on the district board, Waveland Mayor John Longo, president of the district; and Dolph Kellar, vice-president of the district; both voted against having the phrase included.

The votes followed and argument by Waveland City Attorney Lucien Gex, attorney for the district, who stated that he felt the contract offered by the Bay councilmen amounted to a contract "with strings attached."

"One entity is receiving less of an agreement than the other," Gex said.

He noted Waveland has agreed to lease its $1.5 million treatment system to the district for $1—the same cost requested of Bay St. Louis.

"We need to modify this so they (the contracts) can be equal," he said.

Bay St. Louis City Attorney Joseph Gex said Bay St. Louis would be willing to allow Waveland to add the same phrase to its contract in order to make both contracts equal.

Both Lucien Gex and Longo opposed this proposal.

Lucien Gex said the additional phrase might jeopardize the district's ability to sell bonds for construction in the future.

"It's subjective," Lucien Gex said about the phrase which requires the district to show proof that the land will be used for sewage treatment after the 30 years if it is not already being used to treat sewage at that time.

He argued a bonding company might refuse to sell bonds to the district because no assurance of ownership would exist on the land which would be used for collateral.

Longo, Kellar and Lucien Gex, and Kellar did agree that a resolution from the City of Bay St. Louis could be added to the contract in place of the phrase.

The resolution would allow the City of Bay St. Louis to use the land for purposes other than treatment if that usage was approved by the district.

Man's body found on Rifle Range Rd.

By BRENT MACEY

The body of a man believed to be about 30-years-old was found Friday in a ditch on the side of Rifle Range Road in Hancock County, approximately 1.8 miles north of US-90.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson stated, "We definitely feel foul play was involved, that he was murdered."

Cause of death is unknown.

The man was believed to have been dead four or five days when he was discovered by Norvin Luxich who was hunting with a group from Hancock County along the road at 8:30 a.m.

The body, laying face down, was partially covered by a piece of plywood which Luxich said he was going to use to check the pattern of his shotgun.

The victim was clothed in faded blue jeans, sweat shirt and denim jacket, and was wearing an athletic shirt with the numeral 52 printed on it.

He had brown hair, a full beard, was six feet tall and weighed between 130 and 160 pounds, Peterson said.

The victim was not wearing shoes when discovered although he had on a pair of white athletic socks trimmed with red.

No identification was found on the body.

"We have no idea where he was from," Peterson said.

The body, face almost black, was removed from the site in a body bag provided by Edmond Fahey Funeral Home and taken to the coroner's office in New Orleans where a full autopsy will be performed to determine cause of death.

Results of the autopsy were expected Saturday.

Bay pair arrested in year-old robbery

Chief Douglas Williams of Bay St. Louis Police Department reports two men have been arrested in connection with an armed robbery of Dunbar Liquor Store in January. They are identified as Edward A. Soffra, 23, 101 Genin St., and Jim Rogers, 23, 117 DeMontuzin, both of Bay St. Louis.

The arrests were made after a lengthy investigation into the matter by Investigator Murray Ladner and Patrolmen Bob Butler, Thomas Ralph, and Thomas Pustay, the chief said.

Soffra is also charged with burglary of the Emory Smith home at 132 Harrison Court, Bay St. Louis, where various items such as radio, tapes, speakers, cameras, and jewelry were stolen.

A preliminary hearing for the two men is set for Tuesday before Judge Joseph Benvenutti.

Bail for Soffra was set at $15,000 and for Rogers at $10,000.

BURGLARY ATTEMPT

Damages from an attempted break-in of a L&N truck were reported Wednesday, Dec. 22 at 7:52 a.m., Bay police report.

Culprits pried a wing glass open, then opened the door and broke off a key in the ignition, police said.

Patrolman Larry Ladner answered the call. The matter continues under investigation by the Police Department, the chief added.

TOOL THEFT

Thieves apparently entered Ismond McMahon's work shed Dec. 22 at 352 DeMontuzin and stole a tool chest and tools from a work bench, police report. Patrolman Jim Koch answered the call.

STOLEN VEHICLE

A 1981 Ford Fairmont station wagon, dark green, belonging to Mrs. Michael Willumits of 308 DeMontuzin was stolen Wednesday, Dec. 22 from in front of Monti Electric on Hwy. 90, Bay St. Louis police said.

The car has "Bay St. Louis" on the front windshield as well as "Mississippi Fire Association."

The investigation is being conducted by Investigator Murray Ladner and Patrolman Larry Ladner.

SPECIAL TREES—This unique Christmas tree is constructed of some 2,000 pine cones intricately woven into chicken wire supported by a wooden frame. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McCaleb, of 537 St. John Street in Bay St. Louis, constructed the tree from pine cones they found in their yard. The project took some two months with the couple working an hour or two a day during their free time. Mrs. McCaleb said she learned about the idea from a course offered through a Homemaker Extension class offered in Hancock County. The tree can be separated into halves for storage. A theft occurred at Sycamore and St. Francis Streets Dec. 21 at approximately 9 p.m., according to officers.

A truck owned by David H. Williams of Baton Rouge, La., was broken into and approximately $1,900 in tools and personal items were stolen.

Patrolman Thomas Ralph answered the call and is assisting Investigator Murray Ladner in the case, according to the chief.

Man hangs self in penitentiary

George Smith, 23, of Slidell, who plead guilty to a charge of burglary and aggravated assault in Hancock County this year, was found hanging from a heating duct in his cell at the Mississippi State Penitentiary in Parchman Monday.

A coroner ruled his death probable suicide by self-inflicted hanging.

Smith was transported to the penitentiary from Hancock County Jail last October where he was serving a 20 year sentence.

During his confinement in the Hancock County Jail, he escaped and was recaptured twice.

He was involved in the armed robbery and shooting of a Waveland amputee.

Health officials urge Christmas toy safety

The gifts are all open and the wrappings put away. Now's the time for parents to make sure their children's Christmas toys are safe as well as fun.

Because toys given to children during the holidays are often selected by people who do not know the child's exact age and development stage, the Mississippi Public Health Association and Mississippi State Department of Health encourage parents to examine toys for safety and suitability to the child.

Any toy which is too advanced for the child or which could pose a hazard should be stored for later play, said Wade Spruill, MPHA president.

Toys designed for older children should be kept away from little ones. Chemistry sets, hobby items, and toys with small parts, particularly games can pose extreme danger to younger children.

Plastic packaging materials can be deadly playthings. Parents should remove and destroy them immediately.

Broken toys are potential hazards and should be repaired immediately or thrown away. Parents should check all toys periodically, Spruill said.

Spruill recommends that parents become label readers and heed age recommendations. Parents and children, when appropriate, should fully understand all instructions.

Language of Bees studied on Nature

For centuries, naturalists have been trying to discover whether animals can communicate with each other and, if so, how.

Program Five of The Discovery of Animal Behavior, a six-part miniseries broadcast over PBS as part of Nature, focuses on the efforts of scientists and naturalists to learn the languages of animals.

The show will be aired at 8 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 26 on ch. 19, Biloxi and ch. 7, Hancock Cable.

Among those whose studies are explored in this telecast are Karl von Frisch, who unraveled the language of honey bees, and proved that fish could hear and that insects could distinguish between colors; Julian Huxley, the zoologist who, in 1912, began to study the ritual movements of the great crested grebes, concluding that each movement or dance provided a particular message to other grebes; and Konrad Lorenz, an Austrian medical student who, in 1927, recorded the visual language of geese and brought public notice to the phenomenon of "imprinting."

Also, Niko Tinbergen, who studied the habits of hunting wasps that survive by feasting on honey bees and who discovered that birds react to different colors; and Esther Cullen, who, along with Tinbergen, recorded the relationship of temperament in birds to their natural habitat. In Program Five, Karl von Frisch is played by Alan Crisp; Konrad Lorenz by Paul Jericho; Niko Tinbergen (younger) by John Ashton; Niko Tinbergen (older) by Terry Wale; and Esther Cullen by Jayne Lester.

The Discovery of Animal Behavior is a co-production of the BBC, RM Productions and WNET/Thirteen, New York. The miniseries was produced by John Sparks.

Noted paleoanthropologist Dr. Donald Johanson, director of the Institute of Human Origins, Berkeley, Calif., is the on-camera host.

Winnie The Pooh plays Wednesday

Hancock Girl Scout Troop 27 is presenting a play at the Bay St. Louis Little Theater taken from the original "Winnie the Pooh," written by A. A. Milne.

Performances are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 29 and 30.

The directors are Mary Carter and Alice Holmes. Cast members are Jennifer Burrows, Jaqueline Dorian, Dee Ferrell, Erin Guthrie, Tammy Hotard, Lynette Jones, Sabrina Kersanac, Yvette Ladner, Bahijjeh Schwabacher, Angela Stinson, Laura Stinson, and Robin Williams.

Paula Burch and Brenda Dalon are in charge of props. The two hostesses are Kim Claycomb and Toni Vonalski.

Bridgette Page is in charge of lighting.

The Little Theater is located on the corner of "A" Street and Boardman Avenue. Tickets will be $1 per person and will be available through the members of the troop at the door.

For further information call Alice Holmes at 467-5710.

Quotables by Cuevas

We hope everyone got their share of the big turkey yesterday, we know many will be eating on the old bird for several days.

The holidays are always enjoyed by young children and we hope everyone will have a safe holiday season. Drinking and driving is a big problem in Hancock County, just like the rest of the nation.

It is our understanding that police will be checking drivers very close during the next few days to try and get the drunks off the highways and roadways.

If you drink, please do not drive.

It seems we will be getting the five cent increase on gasoline approved by Congress.

An additional one cent increase is scheduled because of the recent Mississippi Legislature for educational funding.

We have been told the one cent increase at the pumps for Mississippians will go into effect next week.

There are two things for certain every human must face, one is taxes, and the other, we must all die.

Motorists are slow thinkers at times, and we noted this on Friday when we were traveling US-90 to Biloxi.

A Mobile Medic Ambulance vehicle had all emergency lights flashing in addition to siren, yet several motorists took, as it seemed forever to move over.

We hope the ambulance was able to get to the hospital in time with the patient.

It seems law enforcement agencies are always having a problem getting through the holidays without a tragedy.

Last year on Thanksgiving, it was the triple murder in Leetown.

This year, on the day before Christmas, there was the body of the person found off US-90, apparently a murder.

It takes only special people to be able to stomach these and other tragedies.

"WELL, G'WAN, OPEN IT...I DIDN'T PUT ON THIS SILLY RED SUIT FOR NOTHIN', NO INDEED."

KGB described as 'organized terrorists'

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article, entitled "The KGB in Its 64th Year" by Christopher C. Harmon, a student at Claremont Graduate School specializing in the Soviet Union, is submitted to The Sea Coast Echo by Public Research, Syndicated of Claremont, Calif.

Theme: An overview of the history and current activity of the KGB on the 65th anniversary of its founding.

By C. C. HARMON
Because Lenin believed that "the courts must not be terror, but must formulate the motives underlying it (and) legalize it as a principle," he created the Soviet secret police 65 years ago this month, on December 20, 1917. Once called the Cheka, and now known as the KGB, the organization has had many names throughout its history. It has known only one purpose, however: to act as the "Sword and Shield" of the Communist Party of the USSR.

The Cheka, or "All-Russian Extraordinary Commission for Combating Counter-Revolution, Speculation, and Sabotage," began as an investigative agency charged to search out deviant communists. It was swiftly transformed into a secret police force with innumerable duties and few discernible restraints. Feliks Smerzhinsky, the agency's first director, laid down his policy: "We stand for organized terror," he declared. Under his direction, the first 200,000 "official" executions occurred; hundreds of thousands of other Russians disappeared into the first Soviet Gulag Archipelagoes, where uprisings cost 300,000 more lives.

Already by March, 1921, Petrograd sailors (the naval forces which had helped instigate the Revolution four years earlier) issued a manifesto declaring communism to have "brought the workers, instead of freedom, an ever-present fear of being dragged into the torture chambers of the Cheka, which exceeds by many times in its horrors the gendarmes administration of the Czarist regime." And yet the Leninist-Dzerzhinsky regime was to appear almost mild by contrast with that of Stalin and Beria, which succeeded it.

Dzerzhinsky Square, two blocks from the Kremlin, is the site of KGB headquarters. The building is not marked; everyone knows what it is. There is a new statue of Dzerzhinsky, raised by Khrushchev, who, if he closed some of Stalin's concentration camps and executed Stalin's chief of secret police, Beria, nonetheless pledged to "strengthen in every way revolutionary vigilance and the organ of state security." He renamed the agency the "Committee for State Security," or KGB, but still called its personnel "our Chekists."

He brought the reorganized KGB more within the control of the Party, and gave it more funding as well as new, international dimensions.

The Brezhnev legacy was one of explosive growth. And it was under Brezhnev's eye that Yuri Andropov and his lieutenants made their steady advance into positions of government and party power.

No KGB chief since Stalin's Beria had even been a Politburo member; Andropov became one in 1973. The next year he received the Order of Lenin for his "direct and active part in working out and implementing the home and foreign policies of our party and the Soviet state."

Since 1977, KGB personnel have been winning the highest kinds of government and party positions and honors. The KGB chief of the Azerbaijan sector, Geydov Aliyev, had not even been part of the Politburo; suddenly he is First Deputy Premier, the possible successor to Premier Tikhonov.

The promotion of KGB head Andropov to general secretary of the Communist Party was, of course, without any precedent in the Soviet history.

The new KGB chief is a 64-year-old Ukrainian, Vitaly Fedorchuk. He commands perhaps 90,000 staff officers, some 300,000 specially armed border troops, and tens of thousands of other paid informants and agents. If he has a budget, it is virtually unlimited. And government, party, and army organizations provide logistical and other support free.

The "Chief Directorates" conduct foreign operations, border control, and routine and special operations against the Soviet population, foreigners, and tourists. The KGB works closely with, and oversees, the GRU or military intelligence service of the Red Army General Staff.

Intellectual and artistic independence.

There are special departments in some field offices for "Jewish Affairs."

During the last few years, this national and international apparatus has crushed a nascent Soviet peace movement with arrests and psychiatric treatment, while funneling large sums into the same kind of movements in the West, spending millions on "peace" front organizations based in Moscow, Sophia, and Prague.

It has arrested the last of the founders of "Snot," a free trade union movement in the USSR, while leading and paying for union strikes in Portugal, New Zealand, and Costa Rica.

It has brought to heel the last members of the "Helsinki Watch" committee on human rights, even as it built up a new gulag for 100,000 political prisoners, many of them women, for construction of the new pipeline.

It regularly dispatches KGB and GRU "scientists" to pose at, and politicize, international scientific conventions, yet at least two legitimate Soviet scientists were kidnapped by the KGB from an Austrian U.N. agency when their loyalties became suspect.

Other recent operations include firing upon a Ukrainian crowd protesting poor food and health conditions in factories, kidnapping an Afghan Ambassador to Czechoslovakia off the streets of Prague, the use of Aeroflot and other personnel to influence ETA terrorists in Spain and southern France, the theft of thousands of classified military documents from our NATO allies and from the Government Accounting Agency in Washington, D.C., and giving guerrilla training, directly or through the PLO, to "neo-Nazi" terrorists from Western European countries.

But the most masterful of the KGB's operations has been its careful construction of the intelligence and "active measures" networks in its satellite countries.

In wartime, Stalin's secret police cooperated with the Gestapo to identify and liquidate the most democratic of the resistance leaders in Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Since the war, Eastern Europeans have been taken to special Soviet intelligence schools, where each national group is kept separate from the others, and all are studied, tested, and sometimes co-opted by the Soviet "uncles."

By dominating each satellite's intelligence apparatus as it dominates their governments, Moscow has added a parallel network to its own, allowing more intense activities within the Bloc and expanded international operations.

The East German service, for example, is directed by Misha Wolf, an Andropov protege, East German maintains between eight and ten thousand agents in Western Germany, helps the KGB handle the Palestinian guerrillas, including Fatah's internal security unit, and polices the police in Ethiopia, Angola and Mozambique.

Czech intelligence agents, serving Cuba at Castro's request between 1959 and 1961, helped to prepare Cuba for the eventual and complete surrender of its own DGI service to the KGB's control.

Czechoslovakia has been a refuge for Italian terrorists since the 1940s, and Karlov Vary and other training centers routinely serve the Red Brigades.

Secret service operations against Czech emigres on French soil earned a formal protest from Francois Mitterrand this January.

Even the supposedly "maverick" and "independent" Roumanians were recently discovered to be conducting widespread KGB espionage operations from their embassy in Washington, D.C. The KGB must be taken seriously. Recently England's Royal Academy voted to retain as one of its own Anthony Blunt, a confessed and convicted Soviet spy.

Deriding those who sought Blunt's expulsion from the Academy, historian A.J.P. Taylor said: "It was just like McCarthy in America all over again."

But the KGB is a potent organization threatening in a deadly way not only people under Soviet rule but Westerners as well.

Lenin believed that "the scientific concept of dictatorship means neither more nor less than unlimited power resting directly on force."

Until such time as the USSR is ruled by popular consent, it will continue to be ruled by force and by fear.

These are the only means of persuasion "our Chekists" have ever known.

Business taxes in Mississippi are generally fair and competitive when compared to adjoining states, a study has found.

The report, prepared by the Mississippi Economic Council, warns that it is essential that Mississippi protect its favorable business tax climate so as to further strengthen opportunities for the state's economic growth.

Prepared for the Council by its Taxation Committee, the 34-page study surveys the history of Mississippi's business taxes and compares those taxes to business taxes in other states. States included in the comparison were Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Tennessee, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

The study committee was directed by Jackson CPA Paul Breazeale. Meridian attorney H. Wingfield Glover Jr., is chairman of the Taxation Committee.

"Although Mississippi's economic expansion has been at a slower pace than Mississippians would have preferred, there has been substantial improvements in recent years. A key factor in this improvement has been the maintenance of a favorable business climate, and an essential part of this climate has been the state's tax structure and its tax rates," the report concluded.

Based on its study, the MEC said that "Mississippi has made a greater effort, based on ability to pay, at providing tax resources for state needs than have most other states in the region." The Council said it found that "taxes on business in Mississippi are generally fair and competitive with adjoining states."

In order to protect the state's favorable tax climate, the MEC recommended the following:

- 1) Mississippi's tax system must always be responsive to fiscal integrity and must be uniform, just, and equitable in its administration.
- 2) The Legislature should monitor the state's tax structure and expenditures on a continuing basis to assure that adequate state services are provided while maintaining state tax competitiveness with other states in the region.
- 3) State agencies involved in the fiscal process should strive for dissemination of more accurate financial information to taxpayers and to the public.
- 4) Mississippi should continue to provide tax incentives as an encouragement of economic growth.

MAKING AMERICA STRONGER

It will probably be early 1983 before the figures are in on just how merry a Christmas it was for the nation's retailers. There have been hopeful signs that Americans are slowly beginning to lift their heads above the struggling U.S. economy.

The ups and downs of consumer spending are an economic fact of life and so the extent to which we spend our money is closely watched.

And while the economists debate over whether the recession is still with us, there's an underlying message to the debate, one that's inherent to the American economic system. And the message is simple: The Free Enterprise System serves America well and efforts should be strengthened to protect it.

During this holiday season it is well worth pausing to consider America's free market economy. The Mississippi Economic Council believes that all Americans should redouble their efforts to make America stronger. And in doing so we will make our economy stronger and create greater opportunity for us all.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions
About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY

Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

Our ad budget is based on a percentage of sales, so if we don't cut back on ads during the recession, how can I justify the higher percentage expenditure? Don't Want To Take Any Chances.

Dear AC: Last week, we discussed why you shouldn't cut back, citing the growth rate of companies who held their ground during the 1974-75 slow down as compared with the companies who pulled back in their promotion.

The answer to the second part is a real challenge to management, but there's a very real possibility you can get even more advertising with your promotion dollars.

There are two specific suggestions:

- 1) Check with your local media representatives to see that you are qualifying for the best space rates. Rates are usually based on volume of ads and/or frequency — so be sure your buying patterns qualify you for the lowest possible rates, thus maximizing your ad dollars.

- 2) Get all the dealer co-op advertising to which you are entitled. Almost all distributors have co-op plans, which work like this — when you order merchandise you are also given an ad budget and approved print materials.

You place the ads with your local newspaper, either as stand alone ads, or in combination with other items. Then, when you are billed by the newspaper at your regular rate, you send a copy of the paid statement to the distributor with whom you are "cooperating."

The distributor will then reimburse you for the agreed upon proportion of the cost — it may range from 25 to 100 percent, but most often will be 50 percent.

You may get the reimbursement in the form of credit against future purchases, or simply a direct payment, but it amounts to the same thing.

In most cases using co-op means, in effect, you can cut your dollar cost for the same space by one-half, double the space you are now getting for the same cost, or find a balance between the two that is within your revised ad budget.

Not only do you get the cost sharing benefit, but the ads are frequently more productive than layouts done locally, as they will more than likely tie in with other promotion being done by the manufacturer in other media.

But, the real clincher for co-op is a truism we have used before:

You are now paying for co-op advertising — yours if you use it; someone else's if you don't.

So make a note to ask every salesman and manufacturer's representative about their co-op plans. If they try to put you off, delay purchases until they come through. They'll get the message and you'll get the co-op dollars.

"The Whales That Wouldn't Die," a documentary narrated by Jack Lord, takes a close look at the Pacific gray whale and its rebound from extinction at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 30, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

The documentary uses interviews with experts, rare footage of whaling and a visit to the San Ignacio Lagoon in Baja California, Mexico, to profile the only whales to recover from near destruction — twice. The program recounts the discovery of calving lagoons by 19th century whalers and recent discoveries by scientists.

Animal shelter finds woes

By BRENT MACEY

A possibility exists that a contract to construct an animal shelter in Waveland may have to be rebid, thus delaying construction.

At a Waveland Aldermen meeting Wednesday night, Mike Schmitt, president of Southern Builders in Pass Christian, told the aldermen that he has been unable to obtain a payment bond for the job.

Schmitt's company was awarded a contract to construct the building last month.

The company bid some $21,000 for the job and board members hoped the animal shelter could be constructed by Christmas.

At the board meeting, Schmitt asked if he could perform the work without a payment bond.

Waveland City Attorney Lucien Gex stated a state statute requires both a performance bond and a payment bond when a job is over $25,000.

"When the jobs are under $25,000 the statute says you can waive the performance bond. It doesn't say anything about waiving the payment bond," he said.

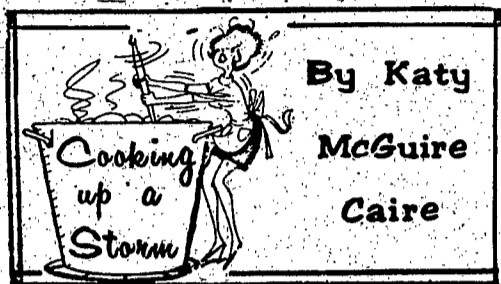

Schmitt, who is a small contractor, asked if the job could be split into two separate contracts.

"I can go half the distance but I can't put up the whole $21,000," he said.

Board member Herman Yarbrough said this practice would be unfair to other bidders.

The board agreed to give Schmitt until Jan. 4 to obtain a payment bond or the job would be rebid.

Schmitt claimed, "It's going to take a much bigger contractor and it will cost you a lot more money if the job has to be rebid."

With all the pre-Christmas parties, planned and impromptu, taking place all along the coast, it's a wonder anyone has time for a bit of Christmas shopping, much less anything else.

And happy—and relaxed—is the hostess who has a few magic tricks in her repertoire for that "little something" to offer along with the holiday libation. Such as these delicious little party sandwiches. Here's

GERRY BISHOP'S MYSTERY BITES

1 lb. bacon, fried crisp and crumbled
1 large bell (green) pepper, finely chopped or ground
1 cup pecans, finely chopped

or ground
Just enough mayonnaise to make a spread.

Mix all together, and spread on thin sliced bread, cutting bread into quarters to triangles. It's especially good on rye bread, and you can make these up as open-face sandwiches also, if you choose.

Every time Gerry makes these delectable "bites" they disappear quickly.

Another quick-trick-magic hostess is Thelma Yockey. Here's

THELMA YOCKEY'S CRAB CONTINENTAL

1 lb. crabmeat, preferably fresh, otherwise frozen or canned
1 large package cream cheese
1 stick butter (you need the real thing for this, but may substitute)

Blend all together in the top of a double boiler, or a chafing dish for more elegant service. You may add seasonings to your taste, but crabmeat is so delicious that it's a shame to cover its taste up with seasonings, don't you think?

This is equally tasty as a hot dip, served atop tiny toast squares or triangles or crackers...or in patty shells. It's also a delicious entree when served in larger shells or under the broiler for just a moment or so.

(Copyright, 1982, Katharine D. M. Caire)

Afternoon ceremony unites Elliott, Ladner

Charlene Ladner and Nicholas Elliott, both of Long Beach, were united in marriage in an afternoon ceremony December 5 at Trinity United Methodist Church in Gulfport.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Ladner of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Elliott Sr. of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Rev. Glenn Martin officiated at the 3 p.m. ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Judy Whaler who sang "Colour My World," "The Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by organist Mrs. Ann Rollins. Lori Peterson, cousin of the bride, accompanied on flute.

A candle lighting ceremony symbolizing the new family bond was performed after wedding vows were exchanged.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over bridal taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a portrait neckline edged with a ruffle of raschel lace. The French puffed sleeves had cuffs of matching lace trimmed with satin bows. The full flowing skirt was encircled with a ruffled flounce of lace which swept to a chapel length train. Her tiered veil of silk illusion was bordered with matching lace and was held in place by a jeweled lace caplet.

She carried a bouquet of red roses, iris, white carnations and baby's breath.

Cindy Ladner of Biloxi, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Winnie Ladner of Waveland, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Janice Baxter of Ocean Springs and Andrea Elliott of Long Beach, daughter of the groom.

The attendants were attired in floor length burgundy dresses with matching lace jackets. They carried bouquets of pink carnations and baby's breath and wore matching hair pieces.

Miss Wendy Peterson of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Zachary Ladner of Waveland, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mike Owen of Biloxi served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Paul Michael Elliott, brother of the groom; Paul Andrew Elliott and David Elliott, sons of the groom, all of Long Beach.

Ushers were Carl Ladner, Jr. of Waveland, brother of the bride, and Kenny South of Biloxi.

A reception followed the ceremony at Saturday's Restaurant in Gulfport.

On return from a wedding trip to the east coast of Florida, the couple will reside in Long Beach.

Nuptial Mass unites Favre, Necaise

St. Clare Catholic Church in Waveland was the setting for the December 11 afternoon ceremony uniting Mary Denise Necaise and Joseph Paul Favre in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jessy C. Necaise of Waveland. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Paul Favre Sr. of Pass Christian.

Rev. William Villar celebrated a Nuptial Mass and officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Musical selections were provided by Mrs. Mildred Means of Waveland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of chiffon and chantilly lace over bridal taffeta fashioned along empire lines with long tapered sleeves trimmed with lace. The fitted bodice featured a round portrait neckline and tiers of lace extended down the back of the gown forming a chapel length train. She wore a headpiece of chantilly lace which held a veil of illusion, and carried a cascade of white and mauve silk roses interspersed with angel lace.

Dorothy Owens of Lumberton, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Maid of honor was Donna Favre of Pass Christian, sister of the groom.

Bridesmaids were Michelle Moran and Tracey Summers of Bay St. Louis and Angela Moran of Picayune.

The attendants were attired in formal gowns of burgundy silesta overlaid with chiffon. Full, flared skirts were belted with self-ties at the waistlines. They carried colonial style nosegays of pink and burgundy carnations and angel lace.

Miss Tanisha Necaise of Necaise Crossing, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Seth Pavolini of Pass Christian, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer.

Milton Bernard of Waveland, uncle of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Jimmy

Harvill of Waveland, cousin of the groom; Joe Necaise of Lumberton and Greg Necaise of Waveland, brothers of the bride; and Joe Gamblo of Waveland.

Ushers were Hayward Guenard of Waveland and Alvin Bernard of Long Beach, cousins of the groom.

The mother of the bride chose for the occasion a formal gown of misty silesta, fashioned with Sabrina neckline, cap sleeves and wrap skirt secured with a self-rose at the waistline.

The groom's mother was attired in a floor length aqua gown featuring a pleated matching capelet. Both mothers wore white rose corsages.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall in Kiln.

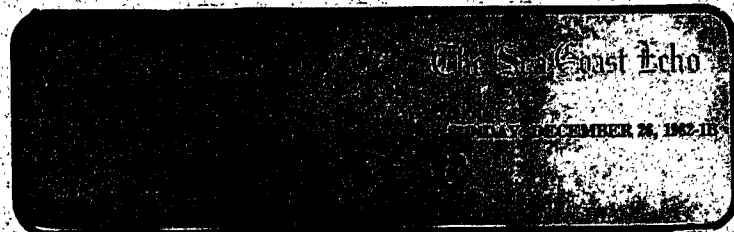

The bride's table held a three tiered wedding cake decorated with pink sugar spun roses and flanked with candle arrangements of pink carnations.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Floyd Ladner of Gulfport, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Pete Necaise of Bay St. Louis.

The couple will reside in Waveland.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Necaise and Mrs. Delores Bauman of Sildell; Mrs. Bonnie Wilkerson; Mr. and Mrs. Fredie Paul Owens and Stephanie Seal of Lumberton; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bernard of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ladner of Gulfport and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Broens of Columbia.

Horning, Zeugin to exchange vows

Mrs. John A. Horning of Pensacola, Fla. announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Rosemary Alida Horning, to Harold Bernard Zeugin Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Zeugin Sr. of Bay St. Louis.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Suitland Senior High School, Suitland, Md. and Pearl River Junior College. She is employed at the U.S. Naval Oceanography Command Facility, National Space Technology Laboratories, as secretary to the commanding officer.

The prospective groom is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, Walls, Miss. and the William R. Moore School of Technology, Memphis, Tenn. He is self-employed with Zeugin and Son Appliance Service in Bay St. Louis.

The couple will solemnize vows January 22 in a 2 p.m. ceremony at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, with reception following Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall in Bay St. Louis.

ROSEMARY HORNING AND HAROLD ZEUGIN JR.

Dix Ashman home the setting for Diamondhead Club meet

The Diamondhead Garden Club met Wednesday, Dec. 15, at the home of Mrs. Dix Ashman in Waveland for its annual Christmas luncheon. The Ashman home, beautifully decorated throughout in the holiday motif, lends itself to the entertaining of large groups, and more than 70 members of the club came to enjoy the festive occasion.

After a sumptuous covered-dish luncheon, three judges chose the most attractively wrapped gift of those that each member had brought, and which will later be taken to the Miramar Nursing Home. Mrs. Mary Cassis was awarded first place and Mrs. Lee Peterson and Mrs. Carol Prats tied for second place.

At the brief business meeting, the president, Mrs. Marion Kollasch, asked for a volunteer to judge the exterior Christmas decorations of windows and doorways that are rapidly making the Diamondhead area resemble a fairland. Mrs. Janet Bell volunteered to take charge of the judging.

Mrs. Ann Neff, ways and means chairman, reminded those present that Christmas gift ideas are the Calendar of Beauty and the cookbooks published by the Garden Clubs of Mississippi.

Mrs. Dorothy Booth, Memorial Gardens chairman, announced that Mr. Charles Cantrell, an honorary member of the club, had recently had 60 azalea shrubs planted at the Memorial Garden as a Christmas gift.

A new member, Mrs. Straybo V. Claggett was accepted, and a former member, Mrs. Clement J. Acker, was reinstated. At their request, Mrs. Tena Musso and Mrs. Patty McMurray transferred from active to associate membership.

The January meeting will be held at the Diamondhead Country Club with Mrs. Grace Finley speaking on "Herbs, Teas and Cordials - A Gift From The Past."

Submitted by Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, publicity chairman.

Odom, Johnston wed at First Presbyterian

Valerie Jeanette Johnston became the bride of Gregory Bryan Odom on Saturday, December 18 at the First Presbyterian Church in Bay St. Louis.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Johnston of Bay St. Louis. The groom is the son of Mrs. Ernestine Odom of Waveland.

Rev. William Warner Ford officiated at the 3 p.m. double ring ceremony. The church was decorated with evergreen, holly and poinsettias.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Ingrid Ling.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin and chiffon featuring a bodice of chantilly lace with a mandarin neckline accented by seed pearls, shadow sleeves of chiffon with lace appliques at the wrists and a full skirt with a double tiered chiffon skirt over bridal satin, flowing into a chapel length train. Her fingertip length veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a Juliet cap of lace accented by seed pearls.

She carried a spray of pink and mauve long stemmed silk roses, burgundy carnations, baby's breath and white forget-me-nots, trimmed with white satin and lace streamers.

Mittl Carr attended the bride as the maid of honor. She wore a burgundy qiana gown featuring a floor length accordion pleated skirt and a matching chiffon cape. She carried a spray of mauve long stemmed roses and burgundy carnations.

Bridesmaid was Bridgette Howard of Forest Grove, Ga. She wore a mauve gown identical in style to that of the maid of honor's. She carried a spray of burgundy roses and mauve carnations.

Felicia Marie Odom, daughter of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a rose colored velvet dress with white lace collar and cuffs. She carried a basket of pink sweetheart roses and forget-me-nots.

The mother of the bride was attired in a cream colored street length dress. The mother of the groom was attired in a floor length blue gown.

Christmas party enjoyed by Gulf Coast Newcomers

Members made Christmas flower arrangements which were presented to the Driftwood Nursing Home, Gulfport.

Gulf Coast Newcomers board meeting will be held Jan. 4 at the home of Joyce Barnes, Long Beach, at 10 a.m.

The January meeting will be held Jan. 11 at the Holiday Inn (Hwy. 49 and I-10), Gulfport. Gay Billups of Howard Well and Company will speak on Investments.

An international dinner will be held Jan. 15 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Colucci, Gulfport. The theme and food will be Irish. Joel Johnston, brother of the bride, served as the best man. Billy Howard of Forest Grove, Ga. was the groomsmen.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church fellowship hall.

The couple will reside in Bay St. Louis.

Gulf Coast Newcomers Club met Tuesday, Dec. 14 at the Best Western, Gulfport, for their Christmas Party.

The Biloxians, Biloxi High School, presented a beautiful program of Christmas music. For a touch of comedy, twelve members presented a skit on The Twelve Days of Christmas. They were accompanied and directed by Mrs. Vera Reich, Gulfport.

Mrs. Mae Dell Perdue, Gulfport, announced that a Thanksgiving dinner, clothes, and linens, were presented to a needy family in Gulfport.

MR. AND MRS. GREGORY BRYAN ODOM

Entrants sought in Miss Mississippi USA Pageant

Pageant officials have announced Wednesday, Jan. 8, 1963, as the final deadline for applications for the 1963 Miss Mississippi USA Pageant to be staged in Biloxi.

The two-day event will be hosted at the Royal D'Arville on the Biloxi Beach, Jan. 28-29, with finals being held at the Seeger Theatre for the Performing Arts on Saturday evening, Jan. 29. The Miss Mississippi USA Pageant is an Official Miss USA - Miss Universe Contest.

Career women featured on Ch. 7

Womanwatch, the WTBS half-hour magazine show for women, about women, in January, spotlights three women who have broken the barriers to success in male-dominated careers.

With host Barbara Rucker, Womanwatch features: Jenny Kelner, sportswriter for the New York Daily News; Alison Bradshaw, auctioneer for Christies of New York; and Lois Hepworth, apple farmer. Journalist Jenny Kelner functions successfully in her unique position as a female sportswriter for a major newspaper.

Antique jewelry expert Alison Bradshaw, an auctioneer at New York's Christies, has taken on a male-dominated profession with gusto, and with a desire to excel.

Female auctioneers are a rarity, and Bradshaw is a success according to anybody's standards.

Womanwatch, created for the Campbell Soup Company by Creative Programming in collaboration with Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, Inc. (BBDO) advertising agency, is designed to keep today's woman updated on the activities and interests of her peers.

Each monthly edition airs four times, exclusively on the WTBS, channel 7 on Hancock Cable.

The January schedule for Womanwatch includes Wednesday, Jan. 5, 10:35-11:05 a.m.; Thursday, Jan. 13, 10:05-10:35 p.m.; Wednesday, Jan. 19, 1:35-2:05 p.m.; and Wednesday, Jan. 26, 10:05-10:35 p.m.

St. Paul's, diocese sponsoring seminar on wills, estates

When does a wife receive only a child's share of her husband's estate?

Who can be designated to serve as Executor of my estate?

When should I review my will?

These and many more questions will be answered in the Wills Awareness Seminar scheduled to be held Tuesday, Dec. 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the school library, St. Paul's School, Pass Christian.

This Will Seminar sponsored jointly by St. Paul Parish and the Catholic Foundation of the Diocese of Biloxi is open to everyone. There is no admission charge.

George Mack Morse, a member of the law firm of Morse and White, will speak on wills.

Morse, a graduate of the University of Mississippi Law School, is also a certified public accountant.

He is a committee member of the Tax-Exempt Financing Section of Taxation, American Bar Association.

Morse also serves on the Bequest and Trust Committee for the University of Mississippi Foundation.

Robert Young, member of the law firm of Mize, Thompson, and Blass, will speak on establishing and administering of revocable and irrevocable trusts.

Young, a graduate of the University of Mississippi Law School, recently earned a master's degree in Estate Planning and Taxation from the University of Miami.

Let Us Plan Your Christmas Party

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." —John 10:10

By Shaun Murphy

I'm convinced that Christmas can be more than a material celebration and feeble attempt by the nation's merchants to boost the nation's economy on an annual basis. To those who seek the Lord in every aspect of their life, it can be a very uplifting time of the year.

A knowledge of the origins and symbolism of these traditions that we all hold dear can make this celebration a richer and more 'abundant' experience for us all.

One of the biggest hits at any Christmas party is likely to be the mistletoe (for obvious reasons!). But the tradition of it began much differently.

The Druids were pre-Christian Celtic priests, who made a ritual of the harvesting of mistletoe because of their belief that it possessed healing powers. When Christians moved into the Celtic region the sprigs of mistletoe came to represent the One of whom the Druids were unaware, Christ the Healer.

But most of us associate mistletoe more generally with the delightful custom of kissing under the hanging bough. This tradition is of English origin and is centuries old. Back then a young gentleman would kiss a fair maiden under the mistletoe as a silent pledge to her of his life and love.

Well, what about Santa Claus? How did this tradition begin?

Dr. Clement Moore is credited in 1822 with giving us our contemporary view of Santa Claus in his ballad "A Visit from St. Nicholas."

So when we think of a plump, jolly, white-bearded man with reindeer we must give the credit to Dr. Moore.

In some lands however, it is the Christ child who is believed to distribute gifts and blessings, although the name Kris Kringle from the German word "Christkindel" (meaning Christ child) is now commonly associated with Santa Claus.

However the original prototype of our modern Santa was a 4th century bishop named St. Nicholas. He was a young man of great wealth who gave generously to those who had needs greater than his own.

Preferring anonymity he would make his visits at night leaving these goods at the people's homes.

He is honored in Greece and Russia on Dec. 6 each year. And so the proximity to Christmas made him an obvious representative of the charitable character of Christmas!

Next week, a look at the New Year.

St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church

Sing praise to God who will ed our salvation. He comes among us clothed, not in glory, but in ordinary flesh. He is born in weakness to strengthen us; he is born in poverty to enrich us; he is born in this life to take away our death. Sing praise of this saving God!

Kindly remember in your prayers Robert Gorman, who was buried from St. Rose last week. Also remember Irma LeMay who died last Monday. She will be buried in Lakeland, La. on Monday. A wake will be held in Port Allen, La. Sunday.

Hazel Breaux and Marilyn Williams were welcomed into the Altar Society at last Sunday's meeting.

Second collection today will be for our candidate for Hancock County NAACP Mother of Year, Joan Thomas. Tuesday, Dec. 28, is the extended deadline for family ads ($5) in her behalf for the program booklet for the 4th Annual Super Theater to be held Jan. 15, 7 p.m., at Gulfside Assembly. Tickets ($7) may be purchased from Joan until Jan. 10.

St. Rose second annual alumni dance will be tonight at 9 p.m. in our cafeteria. All former students and present parishioners are invited to attend. No one under 21 will be admitted. BYOB. Admission: $5 couple, $3 single.

Our Gospel Choir will practice on Tuesday at 6 p.m. The Hancock County Branch NAACP is sponsoring an ecumenical service at St. Rose Methodist Church in Waveland on New Year's Day at 10 a.m. to commemorate the anniversary of the Proclamation of Emancipation.

Bereaved parents seminar scheduled

Catholic Social and Community Services, Inc. will sponsor a day of information, reflection, sharing and prayer for bereaved parents Sunday, Jan. 9 at St. Augustine's Retreat Center in Bay St. Louis.

The program will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the day will conclude at about 4:30 p.m.

The goal is to help participants understand the grief process, to let them share their experiences with others if they wish to do so and to present a Christian perspective on life and death.

For further information or to register please call Sr. Mary Anne O'Brien, PhD at 374-3316 no later than Jan. 5.

Baptisms

GYM ENCLOSED—Over the Thanksgiving holidays the existing gym at Coast Episcopal High School in Pass Christian was enclosed as the first phase of an athletic development project with further additions to be made. The enclosure was financed primarily through Parent-Teacher Organization contributions of money earned from a recent charity ball at Diamondhead Country Club and the groups' annual Christmas greens sale.

VA reports increase

A 7.4 percent increase in monthly Veterans Administration compensation checks to service-disabled veterans and dependents in Mississippi is one of numerous improvements in veterans benefits, said Mike Ladner, Hancock veterans service officer.

The increase and other improved benefits are the result of the Veterans' Compensation, Education and Employment Amendments of 1982, signed into law by President Reagan last month.

The rate boost begun last month meant an increase from $58 to $62 per month for a veteran with a disability rated at 10 percent.

A veteran with a 50-percent disability now receives $352 a month, up from $328 a month. A veteran with a 100-percent disability now is receiving $1,213 a month, up from $1,130.

The legislation also increased the annual allowance made to certain veterans whose artificial limbs or wheelchairs cause wear on their clothing. It went from $305 to $327. It came as part of the VA's observance of the National Year of Disabled Persons.

In addition, the Bill provided a compensation rate increase to veterans who suffer from service-connected blindness in both eyes and who also have incurred the service-connected loss or loss of use of an arm or leg, Ladner continued.

The Bill also:

- Authorizes payment of a $300 burial allowance for unclaimed bodies of certain wartime veterans for deaths occurring after last Sept. 30.
- Removes the bar against payment of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance and Veterans' Group Life Insurance proceeds in the event a claim is filed more than four years after the insured's death.
- Authorizes VA to guarantee loans made for the purpose of refinancing a lien on a manufactured home, or for purchasing a lot for such home, and changes the term "mobile home" to manufactured home.
- Provides that burial benefits are payable if a veteran dies while a patient in a nursing home under VA contract.
- Terminates the Veterans' Representative (Vet Rep) program and allows outstationing of veterans benefits counselors at schools and other locations.
- Repeals the current GI Bill requirement that vocational schools report on the numbers of their graduates who, during a specified two-year period, have obtained employment in the field for which the school has provided training.
- Improves on administration by the Department of Labor on the provisions of employment and training opportunities for disabled and Vietnam-era veterans.

For information, call Ladner at 467-2200.

PRC registration set

PEACE BEGINS WITHIN—Mrs. Bradley's 3rd graders at Bay Catholic discussed how to bring happiness, love, joy and friendship to all during the holiday season. They said peace begins within, so each child drew a picture of his or her face for a choir angel to be placed on the bulletin board. Each child tries to bring peace to someone special during each day. Brandon Rhodes, Jennifer Smith and Patty Weems show their bulletin board.

Harrison Mental Health Association meeting slated

The Mental Health Association of Harrison County reports its annual meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 11 at noon.

The highlight of this year's meeting will be a presentation by Dr. Lucy Leslie, the newly appointed state director of the Division of Children and Youth Services in the State Department of Mental Health.

Her presentation, titled "Investment in Futures," will describe the need for children's mental health services in Mississippi. The public is invited. Reservations will be necessary and must be made by Friday, Jan. 7. For information, call the Mental Health Association office at 1-864-6274.

Gulf Park expends $2.29 million on improvements

A total of $2.29 million has been expended at the University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast during the last five years for renovation of facilities and land acquisition.

A recent five year report, released by Dr. Joe Holloway, dean of USM Gulf Coast, reveals that a total of $1.8 million was expended on construction projects.

Of this amount $356,341 or 20 percent of the total was used for minor projects performed by USM personnel. The remaining 80 percent of $1.4 million was on a contract basis with local firms.

Dr. Holloway said the renovations have tremendously improved the campus and educational facilities. "I am happy that some 80 percent of this work was contracted to Coast firms because this means jobs and purchases of goods and services in the local economy," he said.

Another $346,000 was used in renovation work and was the result of a donation to the University of goods and services and labor. A portion of the amount was expended by Harrison County for campus improvements.

Story Hour titles listed

The Hancock County Library System provides a story hour every Thursday at the Bay St. Louis Library. Pre-schoolers and their parents are invited to attend.

This week's story begins with the finger play "My Turtle." Yertle the Turtle by Dr. Seuss will be the story read. A motion picture film of Curious George by H. A. Rey will be shown afterwards.

The program will conclude with the finger play "Two Little Monkeys."

Part of America's real strength is the confidence that we can and will take care of ourselves. And that's where U.S. Savings Bonds come in—they help in strengthening both family and national financing!

of the report, $139,442 was used to purchase 10.37 acres of land east of the campus for expansion purposes.

Holloway said that the USM regional campus in Long Beach (formerly Gulf Park College For Women), was originally constructed in the 1920's. "When USM began to function at Gulf Park all of the buildings and utility lines were old and in need of repair and renovation to meet the growing needs of the University program," Holloway said.

The largest single project at Gulf Park has been the current renovation of Hardy Hall which is expected to be completed in March of 1983. A $1 million capital improvement fund allocation from the 1980 Mississippi Legislature funded this project.

The $2 million classroom building just opened on the Jackson County Campus of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College is not included in the report. The facility was constructed for USM by the Jackson County Board of Supervisors on land provided by the junior college.

"We continue to expand both physically and educationally and these expenditures for physical renovations and construction are to help USM do a better job of serving the higher education needs of the people of the Gulf Coast region," Holloway said.

Legal groups to continue free service

The Harrison County Young Lawyers, in cooperation with South Mississippi Legal Services, report the "First Wednesday Legal Line" will be continued as a public service to the residents of South Mississippi.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 5, between 6 and 8 p.m., a staff of volunteer lawyers will answer legal questions from the general public.

The toll-free telephone number is 1-374-4160.
